They will spend the summer here to escape the heat of their eastern climes and to enjoy our mild weather and the fruit.

In a speech at the National Democratic Convention in San Francisco, Mrs. Peter Olesen, speaking for the dry plank, said that John Barleycorn was dead, but from the smell of the breath of some of her brother delegates she was quite sure they were not afraid of ghosts. Mrs. Olesen was a delegate from Minnesota, and is an old friend of the J. A. Greene family.

Campbell In the Lead

Campbell is again in the national limelight. Years ago Campbell was made the testing field for the, now country-wide, rural mail delivery service, with Chas Townsend as carrier. That venture proved so marked a success that soon the plan was extended to other parts of the country with similar success.

The National Welfare League has now selected Campbell as a favorable community for an experiment in instituting a community playground. This is primariiy for the benefit of children over the kindergarten age, whose parents are busy throughout the day in the fruit work, but every child in the community is invited to join in this play ground enjoyment. All this play will be under efficient supervision and direction. The expense of the venture is being met by subscription, the great bulk of which is being raised by the canners. There is no expense attaching to those who attend and enjoy the fun. Through the generous subscriptions of J. C. Ainsley and G. E. Hyde, this has been made possible.

The plan went into operation yesterday, and will be watched with a great deal of interest. If you are interested in the good of the children of this progressive community, you may show it by leaving any financial support, large or small, at the Press office.

Epworth Leaguers

The community and church should be linked together by bonds of love that cannot be broken, and how can we do it better than by each supporting the other. Sunday evening at 6:30, at the Epworth League meeting, the young people will talk about ideas given out at Asilomar as to how this may be done. Young people being the life of a community, desire to co-operate in every way possible to make everyone happy, and to make this community a living example of Christianity.

Come out, young and old, on Sunday evening. Let's get together. In union there is strength.

A special invitation is extended to all strangers; come and receive a warm welcome.

Dr. Ainsley Returns Home

Dr. T. G. Ainsley, and daughter Beryl, of West Hartelpool, England, and Mr. G. A. France, and son Leslie, of New Castle-on-Tyne, departed Monday evening on their homeward trip, returning by way of the Canadian Pacific. They have been here for several weeks, enjoying the beautiful sights and outing resorts of California with the J. C. Ainsley family. Dr. Ainsley is interested in the local cannery, and Mr. France represents the sales brokers in England, and both have been very much interested in the canning processes. The party will stop off at points of interest in Canada, sailing for England from Montreal.

See the Movies

The Orchard City Theatre opened Saturday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall, where it will be continued until the new building is completed. This week the management is showing every night, as the films had been engaged. With two machines in use there is no break in the run, and patrons are assured of a good entertainment. This new business should receive patronage that will insure its continuance and the showing of a good grade of films.

Sugar and Preserving

Who's going to be hungry for fruit next winter?

You, and everybody.

Mrs. Wise says, "Some folks think they can't afford to put up fruit when sugar is so high. But I can't afford not to do it. My family's appetites will not grow smaller just because some things go higher."

She's right.

Look over those jars, caps and rubbers. Have you enough of these things? Remember, there will be few tin cans this season; so everybody will have to depend upon glass. And even jars, caps and rubbers have a way of running short. Best stock up now.

VICTORY MEDALS TO BE AWARDED MARINES OCT. 1

Washington, D. C.—Victory Medals in commemoration of the World War will be issued not later than October 1, according to an announcement made today by the Major General Commandant of the Marine Corps. Following the delay in securing the proper ribbon and dies it was found that the Marine Corps could not begin its distribution until the army's needs had been provided for.

In addition to the battle clasps and citation stars authorized by the War Department a considerable proportion of the Marines, having served with the navy both ashore and afloat, are entitled to other marks authorized for certain services by the Navy Department. Accurate lists of all men who are entitled to battle clasps, citation stars and to the insignia authorized by the Navy Department, will be issued as early as possible to all posts and recruiting stations of the Marine Corps. Men who are entitled only to the medal and ribbon will not be shown on these lists but will be issued the medal and ribbon on presentation of their discharge certificates at posts and recruiting stations. Marines who are entitled to both the medal and any of the insignia authorized by the War or Navy Department will be carefully accounted for on the lists.

As fast as received a liberal supply of medals, ribbons, battle clasps, citation stars and the navy insignia will be forwarded to posts and recruiting stations and advanced publicity will be given in due time. A preliminary order for 75,000 medals has already been placed. The issuance of medals and insignia will be endorsed on the discharge certificate of each man now out of the service.

TIME RIPE NOW FOR THIRD PARTY, SAYS FORTY-EIGHTER

San Francisco.—Third party proponents see in the results of the Democratic national convention the certainty of a new political party, according to a statement issued in this city by Howard Williams, national vice chairman of the Committee of 48, which has called a convention in Chicago July 10 to 14 for organization of a new party and selection of candidates for President and Vice President of the United States.

The statement said:

"The Republican convention adopted a reactionary platform and selected a typical Old Guard candidate. The people expected relief from the Democratic convention, and again their hopes were shattered.

"False issues were created. Real issues, those of concern to average people, were disregarded intentionally.

"A colorless candidate of the conventional type was selected finally by wornout delegates in the small hours of Tuesday morning.

"In the Democratic convention, as in the Republican, everything that savored of liberalism was stifled. There is nothing to choose between either party. Both are bankrupt of democratic purpose.

"The people of the United States now demand a genuine opposition party. They demand a new party which will regard sincerely the interests of the voters, a party which offers a constructive program and which assures relief from tyranny of the 'two-party system.' Such a party will be organized. Now is the time."

The statement also bore the signature of Amos Pinchot, George L. Record and J. A. H. Hopkins.

TRAIN BEARING NEW JERSEY DELEGATION IS IN WRECK

Merced.—The locomotive and baggage car of train No. 3 on the Yasemite Valley Railroad were derailed Tuesday morning, July 6, about 10:30 o'clock at a point about two miles above Bagby in the Merced river canyon. Al Yoakum, the engineer, who lives at El Portal, suffered two fractured ribs and lacerations about the head and body. His fireman was uninjured. The baggageman suffered a broken arm. No passenger on the train was hurt, according to C. W. Lehner, traffic manager of the company. The train was bounud from El Portal, at the edge of the Yosemite National Park, to Merced, where it connects with the main lines. At the point where the derailment occurred, the train skirts the Merced river on a grade blasted into the walls of the canyon.

Three Pullmans, containing a number of members of the New Jersey delegation to the Democratic convention in San Francisco, remained on the track. A special train was sent from Merced which brought the passengers and the injured engineer to this city.

WHO'S WHO IN DEMOCRACY--- COX AND ROOSEVELT

Candidate for President Is Farmer Boy Who Worked Way Up to Newspaper Proprietor--- Roosevelt's Career Tale of Progress

THE career of Governor James M. Cox, Democratic Presidential nominee, began on a farm. He worked his way to be an editorial writer on the Cincinnati Enquirer; owner of the Dayton Daily News and the Springfield Press-Republic, when he formed the News League of Ohio; and thence to politics, being a member of the Sixty-first and Sixty-second Congresses, and eventually becoming in 1913 Governor of Ohio, which office he now holds.

Cox was born on a farm near Jacksonburg, Butte counuty, Ohio, March 31, 18870, the son of Gilbert and Eliza A. Cox. As a boy he learned to know what chores were early in the morning and late at night. As soon as he was able he spent more time at work than play.

Cox as a boy attended country schools, and later was graduated from the Middletown High School. He always was earning money of his own by doing odd jobs. He was once a janitor in a rural church. Later he was a newsboy, working up to a printer on a Middletown weekly, doing these things to help finance his way through school, which looked to him like a very advanced education. He never attended college.

After his graduation from high school Cox taught in rural schools for several years, but having a liking for the newspaper business, he became a reporter on the Middletown News-Signal, then still owned by John Q. Baker, his brother-in-law, remaining here until he secured a place on the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Cox purchased the Daily News at Dayton in 1898. The paper was at that time operating on a losing basis. However, he finally succeeded in making it yield a profit. Five years later he bought the Springfield Press-Republican, and today both newspapers are highly profitable institutions.

He was elected to Congress in 1908 and re-elected in 1910. In this capacity he attracted the attention of the State Democratic leaders, and in 1912 at the last nominating convention held in the State became the party's candidate for Governor and won. His election in 1918 made him the only Democrat elected Governor three times in the normally Republican State of Ohio.

Governor Cox is a lover of the out-of-doors, plays golf, hunts and fishes, rides horseback, takes long hikes. He is stockily built, with a strong neck, indicative of combativeness, and has remarkable physical endurance. He is an eloquent campaign and after-dinner orator.

The Governor lives, when not at the executive home in Columbus, in a beautiful country home at Trail's End, near Dayton. He was twice married. The present Mrs. Cox was Miss Margaretta Blair, daughter of Thomas S. Blair, Chicago business man. They have a seven-months-old daughter, Anne. Governor Cox's other children are, Mrs. D. J. Mahoney, Dayton; James M. Jr. and John Cox. The latter are in school. The Governor is a member of the United Brethren Church.

FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT selected by acclamation as the nominee for Vice-president at the final session of the Democratic national convention Tuesday, was born at Hyde Park, Duchess county, New York, January 30, 1882, the son of James and Sara (Delano) Roosevelt. Of Dutch origin, the family came from Holland in 1648, and in later generations intermarried with Flemish, Scotch and Irish settlers of what is now the city of New York.

Roosevelt, receiving his preparatory education at Groton School, entered Harvard College and was graduated in 1904 with the degree of A. B. He then became a student in Columbia Law School, and was admitted to the New York bar in 1907.

In 1910 he was elected State Senator from his district, and during his term served as chairman of the Forest, Fish and Game Committee, and was a member of the Railways, Canals and Agricultural Committees.

He was re-elected in 1912, but resigned in 1913 to accept an appointment as Assistant Secretary of the Navy by President Wilson. His record with the Navy Department during the war has been worthy of commendation.

Roosevelt was a member of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration Commission. He is a director of the First National Bank of Poughkeepsie. His father was a World's Fair Commissioner from New York State in 1893; was Supervisor of the town of Hyde Park and for many years was vice president of the Delaware and Hudson Company, president of the Champlain Transportation Company and a director of many other companies.

He was married in 1905 to Miss Eleanor Roosevelt of Germantown, Columbia county, N. Y. They have three children, Anna Eleanor, James and Elliott. Mrs. Roosevelt is a niece of ex-President Roosevelt. Franklin D. is a fifth cousin of the ex-President.

DOCTORS OPERATE ON HIGH SEAS TO SAVE MAN'S LIFE

San Francisco. — An operation with a human life in the balance was successfully performed on board the steamer Matsonia while the vessel was on the high seas 500 miles from Honolulu, en route to San Francisco. Fred Hewes, assistant chief steward of the vessel, was suddenly stricken with appendicitis when the Matsonia was two days out of port. Dr. Jacob Schwartz, connected with the Mt. Zion Hospital, with his bride, was a passenger on the ship, returning after a honeymoon trip to the islands. Together with Dr. F. E. Sawyer, a physician of Prunene, Hawaii, Dr. Schwartz was called into consultation by Dr. E. H. Connell, the surgeon of the Matsonia. It was decided that it waould be necessary to immediately perform an operation to save Hewes' life.

When the vessel arrived here July 6, after a run of 5 days 16 hours 26 minutes from Honolulu, Hewes, according to the doctors, was on the rapid road to recovery.

TERRIFIED WIFE SEES MAN LOSE LIFE IN RIVER

Oroville. — While his distracted wife ran up and down the banks of the Feather river screaming in her impotence to save her husband from the current, D. N. Calvin, a resident of this city, collapsed while attempting to swim the stream north of Oroville, and was last seen as he shouted his final farewell following a desperate struggle for life.

The tragedy occurred late July 4. In celebration of Independence Day, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin, accompanied by their son, prepared lunch baskets with the plan of enjoying the afternoon picnicking on the banks of the Feather. Following the luncheon Calvin, wishing to amuse his wife and infant son, swam the river as they watched.

When he reached the center of the river on the return swim he struggled desperately against the current, and it was not until he had shouted "I can't make it," did they realize his danger.

MURDERER SAYS MONEY WAS MOTIVE

Lt. Carl Wanderer Confesses 'Framing' Chicago Crime With Man He Also Slew

Chicago.—Carl Wanderer, former army lieutenant, has solved the mystery surrounding the killing of his wife, Mrs. Ruth Wanderer, and the ragged stranger—a crime which occurred in the vestibule leading to their flat on the night of June 21.

"I murdered them both," he said simply.

Then he began a cold recital that horrified his audience.

"I didn't want any one else to have her if I couldn't," he said. "I wanted to get back to the Army. I thought it would be better to have her dead."

He also wanted to obtain her savings—$1500—he explained.

He told in detail how he hired a tramp—unknown to him even by name—at Madison and Halsted streets, so that he could stage a mock hold-up on the threshold of his home and kill his 21-year-old bride, who was soon to become a mother, and his confederate. Then he read the confession over meticulously, corrected it and signed each page without a tremor. He concluded by ordering a plate of pork and beans for supper.

"I want to be hanged," he told reporters, while awaiting his food. "I hope to join her in death. I wonder if she will forgive me. Well, I loved her too much to let another man get her. But I didn't want her myself."

Night was falling and dusk shadowed State's Attorney Hoyne's private office when the man decided to "come clean."

"Let me clean up and I'll tell you everything," he said. Secretary Geo. T. Kenny ran for a toothbrush, toothpaste and a safety razor. Wanderer washed and shaved calmly.

Then he seated himself before the State's Attorney, his aides, a stenographer, and the police, and told them the following:

"I shot my wife. Then I shot the bum because I was afraid he would squeal. I did it because I was tired of her. I wanted to go back to the free and easy life of the Army. I wanted to get the dough she had, so I figured it all out and planned to make it look like a robbery.

"Monday afternoon I went downtown to buy some butcher knives for my father's shop. When I got them I went over on West Madison street, near the Midcity Bank at Halsted street. There I found the bum. I asked him if he wanted to earn some money easy and he did. I let on I wanted him to drive an automobile. I told him to meet me at 7 o'clock at Lincoln and Lawrence avenues.

"The Saturday before I had told my wife to draw the money out of the bank so we could buy a house. I wanted to get it where I could lay my hands on it. She had brought it home and put it in the bureau drawer.

"So Monday night I met the bum at Lincoln and Lawrence. I told him I wanted him to help me frame a robbery and said he should wait on the corner for me and I would show up at 9. I went home and had supper, put both automatics in my pockets, and took Ruth to the Pershing Theater, near Lincoln and Lawrence.

"The picture was the 'Sea Wolf.' We didn't have time to see it because we didn't get in until after 8 o'clock and we left at about 9. The bum was waiting for us when we left the place. He followed us home, just as I had instructed.

"When we walked into the vestibule he stepped up to me and said, 'Hand over that money!' just as I told him. I drew my gun and shot her first—"

Here for the first time the man showed emotion. He cleared his throat, passed his hand over his freshly shaven chin and continued:

"I shot her and she fell. Then I shot him three times. I was afraid he would still be alive to talk when the police arrived, so I beat his head on the marble floor so he would be unconscious. Then the police came and I went over to the North Robey street station and told the story just as I had planned it."

Wanderer said he had forgotten all about the $1500 in the excitement following the murder, and because of this his mother-in-law, Mrs. Charles Johnson, with whom he and his murdered wife lived, found it in the bureau drawer.

It was the discovery of the money which, in a measure, caused the police to suspect the former army officer. It led to the theory that he engineered the murder to get possession of the cash, or that the slain stranger had come to the doorstep of the Wanderer home to blackmail the wife.

The slip which caused the slayer's downfall was a detail following the actual murder that he had apparently not planned closely enough. It was the numerals on an automatic pistol borrowed from his cousin, Fred Wanderer, because he thought it could not be traced as easily as his own weapon, an Army gun.

When he had committed the double slaying he laid his cousin's revolver by the side of the unidentified stranger and told the police his wife had been shot in the exchange of bullets which passed between him and the "hold-up" man.

The suspicions of the police were aroused by the unemotional manner in which he related the shooting incident. As he sat in the North Robey street station on the night of the crime he talked of baseball, the war, politics and other trivial subjects as though the loss of his wife had not affected him.

Fresno.—Seven firemen were injured and $150,000 damage was done by a fire which completely destroyed the Brooks Furniture store and building on the 900 block on J street, between Kern and Tulare streets here beginning at 10:30 p. m., July 10, and continuing until 1:30 the following morning. At the latter hour the fire was got under control. Three or four of the firemen are seriously hurt. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Golden State News

TERSELY TOLD

Sacramento.—The foundations of the American educational system are being endangered in the United States and her island possessions by the rapid influx of non-assimilable peoples, Albert Bushnell Hart, former historian of Harvard University, told an audience here.

Bakersfield.—A business block in the center of Taft, forty miles southwest of Bakersfield, was destroyed by fire early July 9. One man lost his life in the fire. His name was not learned. A high wind impeded the work of the firemen. The loss will reach $50,000. The buildings were mostly wooden.

Los Angeles.—Two men mistook the University police station for a garage and roused the policemen with calls of "Service! Service!" They were held on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated. They gave their names as E. R. Williams and N. W. Jenkins.

San Jose.—Mrs. Martha E. MacChesney, widow of the late Thomas Clark MacChesney, died July 7 at her home here after an illness extending over several months, but not looked upon as serious by the patient, her family or friends. Thomas Clark MacChesney was an important factor in the upbuilding of San Jose and was also prominent in San Joaquin valley affairs. He died here two years ago.

San Francisco.—The marriage of Mrs. Agnes Wilson Ogden, 1372 Bush street, to Sergeant Harold Ogden, U. S. A., on June 26 was annulled by Superior Judge Bernard J. Flood, upon the application of Ogden because she already was the wife of W. A. Connor of Vancouver, B. C., when they were married. Connor is her second husband. Mrs. Ogden said her son by her first marriage had been seriously sick for some time and that this caused her to be temporarily insane when she said she was single, gave a false name, and married Ogden.

Sacramento.—Leo N. Williams and Ralph Gaffney were returned to Cripple Creek, Col., July 8 in custody of Sheriff Henry von Phul, to answer a charge pending there in connection with the death of two men following a street fight. Williams and Gaffney escaped from jail at Cripple Creek several weeks ago. Gaffney was recaptured recently and Williams was taken into custody on a ranch near here by local officers. Both men waived extradition.

Los Angeles.—The Federal Grand Jury here July 9 returned four indictments. Two charged James Monroe Flowers, general manager of the United Automobile Clubs of America, and his wife, Mrs. May Flowers, secretary-treasurer of the organization, with using the mails to defraud. Another charged P. J. Hunt, freight claims agent of the Salt Lake route, with conspiring with another man to defraud the government, while the railroad administration operated the railways, through misrepresentation of claims allowed against the company for damages to freight. A fourth charged Ira Hendrick Sample with representing himself to be a Federal officer.

Burlingame.—"Rules for the conduct of monkeys residing in the Burlingame city limits" is the title of an order drawn up by Chief of Police L. E. Cavalier as a result of a rampage that a pet monkey belonging to Dr. J. J. Schultz, 1401 Hillside drive, went on July 8. The orgy closely follows that of a monkey belonging to Mrs. Eugene Murphy, prominent society matron, whose pet ran amuck in a beauty shop, where he spilt a large quantity of paints, powders, creams and perfumes in trying to beautify himself. Dr. Schultz' pet leaped a fence and inflicted two long gashes on the arm of M. W. Iles, 1457 Balboa avenue. Dr. E. A. Benner had Iles removed to the Red Cross Hospital for treatment. Chief Cavalier has prescribed strict rules which the owners of these pets must follow or face prosecution.

Berkeley.—Belief that Dennis Keane, wealthy Berkeley yachtsman, who disappeared from his home, 2918 Telegraph avenue, Sunday, may have been the victim of foul play, was expressed by his wife July 9. Mrs. Keane said her husband drew $3000 in currency from an Oakland bank the day before he disappeared, and transferred it to a Berkeley bank. She believes he was seen with the money and was followed until the next day, when the first opportunity for his abduction was offered. Mrs. Keane said her husband disappeared the first time he was alone after withdrawing the money from the bank. Every effort of the police to find some trace of him has been unsuccessful, and the search is being extended to all of the principal cities of the Pacific Coast.

San Rafael.—Josiah E. Prescott, an aged photographer, was seriously injured July 9 when he was struck and knocked down by a machine driven by Charles Freitas, son of M. T. Freitas, president of the Bank of San Rafael. Suffering from a possible fracture of the skull and unconscious, Prescott was removed to the County Emergency Hospital. The accident occurred on the outskirts of San Anselmo as young Freitas and his father, who was riding with him, were on their way to the southern part of the county. They took Prescott to the hospital in their machine. According to Freitas, the injured man, walking near the curb, suddenly tried to cross the street ahead of the car. Prescott is 82 years of age, and has conducted a photograph gallery here for many years.

BRANDY VALUED AT $15,000 GONE

Eight Barrels Taken From Haslett Storage Place as Guards Patrol It

San Francisco.—The second liquor theft from the Haslett warehouse at 1200 Battery street since June 15 occurred some time between Saturday night, July 3, and July 9, when eight barrels of high-proof California brandy, valued at $15,000 at current bootleggers' quotations, were carted away.

A rigid investigation of the brandy theft was started by Justus Wardell, Internal Revenue Collector.

What Wardell will attempt to learn is why such a theft could be made when not only guards employed by the warehouse company, but guards representing the government, were on duty night and day.

If the guards were on duty, Wardell wants to know why was it possible for the liquor thieves to remove steel doors at the warehouse and replace them?

The theft of the barreled brandy was uncovered July 9 by C. C. McCaled, a government gauger. He found that the thieves gained entrance to the warehouse by removing the rusty steel doors, without breaking the government seal. Government guards on the night shift assert that it would have been impossible for the thieves to operate without making a telltale racket during their shift.

Every guard, warehouse and government, will be questioned by Wardell.

More than seventy bottles of whisky, property of Goldberg, Bowen & Co., were stolen from the same warehouse prior to June 15. In many instances the bottles had been refilled with water.

The second theft, coming hard on the heels of the first, has moved Collector of Internal Revenue Wardell to start an investigation that will lead to prevention of further larceny, he said.

LOS ANGELES POLICE GRAFT SIFT ASKED

Los Angeles.—An investigation of alleged graft and protection of vice by the Los Angeles Police Department was requested in a communication Mayor Meredith P. Snyder an[illegible] July 9 he was forwarding to the county Grand Jury.

The Mayor said charges of corruption in the Police Department had come from various sources, and he planned to learn whether they were true.

"As the city's Mayor," his statement read, "I have the right to go directly to the Grand Jury with this matter, and that is what I shall do. I do not expect to call upon the District Attorney or anybody else to open up this matter for me."

Thomas Lee Woolwine, District Attorney, said he had been of the opinion for some time that some Los Angeles police officers were corrupt, and had no doubt some of the grand jurors were of the same view.

"I shall be glad to have the Mayor or any other citizen give any testimony on this matter to the Grand Jury," said Woolwine. "But if there is any investigation it will be conducted by the Grand Jury and the District Attorney, according to the law."

MURDER ON INCREASE AND SALOONS GONE

Chicago.—Crime statistics for recent months indicate that Chicago is putting a slight crimp in the activities of criminals, but those two great indoor and outdoor sports, or enterprises, murder and stealing of automobiles, are showing steady gains.

Human life is about the cheapest of all commodities in Chicago and the residents have become accustomed to the average of one murder a day, but automobiles cost money, and the increasing number of thefts is causing anxiety.

Records show that 2151 cars were stolen in the last six months. Of this number 1526 have been recovered. The others have been run into adjoining states, or repainted, or wrecked and reassembled and are a total loss. In all the recent bank and street robberies and raids by labor sluggers, the raiders, in every instance, were riding in high-powered cars they had stolen. Twenty cars have been stolen in the last twenty-four hours. The business is highly organized and there are scattered all over the city alleged garages or wrecking shops in which a stolen car can be disguised very rapidly.

WOOLEN CLOTHES TO GO HIGHER IN PRICE

New York.—Fine woolens not only will not be lower, but are going higher, in the opinion of E. E. Van Ingen & Co., one of the largest wholesalers of woolens in the city. This is made plain in a letter headed "Copy of a letter sent to an inquiring customer," recently sent out to the leading tailors of the city. The letter says:

Foreign worsteds for spring will cost you from $5 to $15 per suit pattern more than you paid in the spring of 1920. Instead of such goods being more plentiful, there will be fewer of them obtainable and deliveries will be much delayed.

Nearly everything published in the newspapers upon this subject is apparently based upon absolute ignorance of present conditions and future probabilities.

To Save His Conscience

"We musn't overlook the fact that Austria was against us in this war," says Senator Penrose, adding, "we are in the habit of blaming Germany for everything, and if we don't watch out Austria is likely to escape just penalties. Austria reminds me of Percy Jones.

" 'Percy Jones likes to be called a regular fellow and is quite gallant,' said a mutual friend to another.

" 'But is he gallant?' questioned the friend.

" 'Well, I'm not sure. He changed his mule's name from Maud to Bill so he wouldn't feel ashamed when he licked it.' "—Chicago News.

Emptier Than His Title

It is told that one day shortly before the armistice, a tired, hungry-looking young man turned up at a British camp and asked if he might have something to eat.

"Certainly," said the officer, noting the khaki suit. "But may I ask who you are?"

A weary smile stole over the young fellow's face as he replied. "Oh, I'm the Prince of Wales—but for Heaven's sake forget it."

CALOMEL SELDOM SOLD HERE NOW

Nasty drug salivates, makes you sick and you lose a day's work.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant tasting, purely vegetable remedy harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.—Adv.

DIPPER OF DIAMONDS

ON BRIGHT nights one can see gleaming in the sky a formation of stars which resembles a dipper in shape. But once, thousands and thousands of years ago, this dipper lived in the home of a peasant girl.

It was then just a simple tin thing, with a rusty handle.

The mother was taken suddenly sick one night and called to Greta to bring her a dipper of water. Though it was cold and dark outside, the daughter dressed and ran to the spring at once, filled the dipper and started home. Suddenly in her path appeared a tiny puppy.

"I am so thirsty," said the puppy. "Can't you let me have some of the water?"

"I promised to bring it to my mother," said Greta. "But I know you need it at once. Drink."

"Please, miss, for heaven's sake, give me a sip of water," said a feeble voice at the side of the path. Greta looked closely and saw an old man hobbling along with his cane.

"I have to bring some to my mother," returned Greta. "But you can have a drink, for I know you are weary. Rest by this rock." So the old man took a deep draught from the dipper, which almost emptied it.

Greta ran on toward the house, but she heard another sound at her side. It was as if someone had fallen and was hurt. She looked closely and saw a ragged, aged woman lying on her side with the blood flowing from a cut in her head and her eyes tightly closed.

The girl did not stop to think about how little water she had. She poured a drink down the woman's throat and bathed her wound with the rest. The old woman opened her eyes slowly.

"Can you help me home, child?" asked the sick woman. "I live down by the spring."

"Certainly," replied Greta. "I have used all the water for which my mother sent me and will have to return to the spring anyway. I will be glad to help you."

So with the old woman leaning on her strong, young arm, Greta went slowly back to get the water. On reaching the spring the woman knocked on the rock above it and the stone opened, admitting them to a big chamber carved out of the solid earth. Gems gleamed from the walls, and on all sides were rich furnishings glittering with jewels, golden statues and pictures. Some music sounded and the girl held her breath in astonishment as the ragged woman changed suddenly into a handsomely dressed sprite.

"I was only testing your heart," said the sprite. "I am the fairy of this fountain and know why you came. Here is a golden flask full of water for your mother. It will cure her at once. Here, give me your old dipper."

The sprite filled it full of flashing diamonds, each one as large as a bean.

"Run home now," said the sprite. "But be careful that my old enemy, the North Wind, does not hit you. He lies about at this hour to harm all my friends."

Greta hid the flask of water in her dress and held the dipper in her hand. Rapidly she ran, but she could hear the wind coming after her. Faster and faster she flew, but onward roared the old North Wind. Just as she got to her door her foot caught in a root of a tree and she tumbled. Out of her hand flew the dipper, but it did not fall—the North Wind grabbed it and blew it up into the sky. And there it sticks yet. But, fortunately, the diamonds were saved, for they all fell out on the ground, so that Greta found every one. Up in the sky today gleams Greta's dipper, shining as brightly as it did thousands of years ago.

'Course, He Wasn't Afraid.

The 6-year-old boy had told a fib and had been commanded by his mother to go to bed in the dark. He started reluctantly, and upon taking a look at the dark stairway, turned to his mother and said: "Mother, don't you think you'd better come along and see if I really go to bed?"

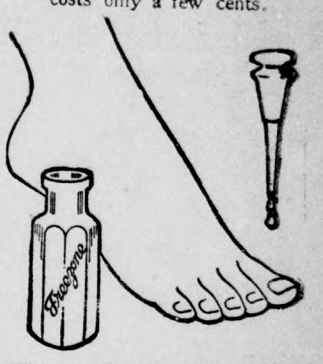
Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.



With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!

"The After-Glow"

She is now with God at the Judgement Seat,
Above in the sphere where the parted meet;
Where the song birds sing, and the flowers bloom;
Where there is no death, nor pain nor gloom;
Where erring ones are ever blest,
And the weary mind at last finds rest.

She is there with Him in the realms above—
A Paradise sweet of peace and love—
Where dear ones united may never part,
Where balm is poured on the aching heart.
Master of all! Oh, grant me to see
These souls as they flit through eternity!

Fling wide the door, let me watch and wait
For Her as she comes thru Heaven's gate.
Open the door, Oh God! I pray!
For a soul that is lonely—lost; astray
From the path direct, and would gladly go
Out in the dark to the After-Glow!

To the Press, and to those who knew and loved Her, these few lines are inscribed.

Albert W. King.

Cutters' Cards at Smith's

A LARGE AMOUNT OF TIME, labor and money has been, year after year, expended in beautifying the grounds of the High School, and they do at least, have a reasonably respectable appearance. Numerous petty acts of vandalism are perpetrated during the vacation season, especially of evenings, which mar the beauty of the grounds. Shrubbery is broken, flowers picked and scattered about on the lawns and other places; gum wrappers, tobacco pouches, cigar and cigarette stumps, etc., everywhere. Some of these things are done by children and grown-ups of Campbell, some by temporary residents, and some by tourists. Much of it could be prevented if parents would exercise more care over the daily conduct of the rising generation, teaching them that school houses and grounds are public property for public use, and should not be appropriated for private use. Now just a little of community pride, and a little more of attention to the recreational hours of your children and the young people of our town, especially in their evening hours, will correct much of these evils. It is worth while, you will discover.

For State Senator
27th District
Dr. A. E. Osborne
Residence: Winchester Station
Post Office: Santa Clara, Cal.

Primaries August 31, 1920
General Election, Nov. 2, 1920

In the candidacy of Dr. A. E. Osborne for the important office of State Senator, the following facts are of interest to the voter:

Dr. Osborne has been a resident of California for over 33 years, and for over 20 years has maintained a residence in Santa Clara county. Throughout his entire residence in this State he has been identified with public affairs of importance. More than any other one individual he is responsible for the creation, erection and enviable management of the State Institution for the Feeble-Minded and Epileptic, whose Medical Superintendent he was for 15 years. This remarkably successful institution, with its ideal site of 1700 acres, modern detached buildings, and more than 1500 inmates, receiving advanced scientific training, continues under laws Osborne secured for it practically according to the methods he founded there. For 19 years past he has been sole owner and manager of a large private institution for Mental Defectives, which was at first located in the town of Santa Clara and later moved to new and specially erected buildings at Winchester Station. He has also served a term as Medical Superintendent of the Napa State Hospital for the Insane, having been drafted from private life to take up the re-organization of this—the largest state institution in California—returning to his private work when his term was finished. At Napa his re-organization of the Hospital was vigorous, thoroughly scientific and as successful from a business standpoint as from a professional one. He is rated as one of the foremost Alienists on the coast, and has no peer in this State in his knowledge of the State's business in all lines of institutional work—penal, reformatory, charitable or correctionable and remediable. Since the Juvenile Court law came into existence in this State he has been continuously identified with its work. He was the first chairman of the Probation Committee, and he holds that office today.

His work in this county in all humanitarian lines regardless of creeds and races, his assistance to the Courts in matters requiring expert service; and his active co-operation in all movements having for their object civic betterment, are too well known to warrant enumeration here.

During the war he offered his services to the Government, and was chairman of Exemption Board No. 2, and though he had distinguished and most capable associates on that Board, Dr. Osborne's knowledge of medical matters, particularly those of a psychopathic trend and his familiarity with public affairs, were no small factors in expediting the work of the Board and in securing from the War Department and the Governor of the State congratulatory letters and testimonials when mustered out.

Like many other men of versatility, Dr. Osborne finds recreation in diverse mental activities, not least among which are his land interests. Besides considerable acreage in Kern county, he owns a profitable ranch near Mountain View, an orchard at Winchester, is a member of the special farm owners' committee on Water Conservation, and is an enthusiastic member of the Local Unit of the Federation of American Farmers.

His acquaintance with public officials, his well known stand on all progressive legislation affecting labor, the rights of women and children and his intimate knowledge of the State's resources and needs, qualify him to fill the office he seeks, with impartial fidelity to his constituents. He is fortunate in having the confidence and esteem of our State officials, which of itself insures immediate front rank for him—if elected—in all important legislation.-Adv.

Mr. J. M. Butts came home from the Big Basin Monday.

Dr. M. E. Mumma, of Virginia avenue, is enjoying a visit from his mother, Mrs. J. C. Carothers, of Kirksville, Missouri.

Mr. C. E. York returned Wednesday evening from Davis, where he had been in attendance at a three-days' agricultural convention.

The past week of ideally cool summer weather has been hard on the apricots, many of them spoiling on the trees before ripening.

While on their vacation at Pacific Grove, Rev. Preston had the misfortune of colliding with another auto. Mrs. Preston was somewhat bruised and cut, but the others were unhurt.

The Gruver Rubell and David Oliver families, of Merced, were over-night visitors, Sunday, at the home of C. F. Rubell. The party was on their way to Santa Cruz to spend their vacation.

Have you noticed how quiet it is on the street today? That is the silent boost for the community playground. About 75 children are off the street, and at the school grounds enjoying themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Campbell, of San Jose, came out Thursday, and are occupying the H. W. Higbie home, on Johnson avenue, during the absence of Mrs. Higbie. Mr. Higbie will make his home with them, and spend week-ends in Plumas county.

Everyone must register in order to vote at the August Primaries. If one has registered this year it will not be necessary to re-register except where a change of residence has been made. There are a number of voters in this community who should register. Do it now, on or before July 31.
